

Chapter 5: Adverb

Definition

An adverb is a word that modifies a verb, an adjective, or another adverb. It tells us how, when, where, how often, or to what extent an action happens. Adverbs make sentences clearer and more informative.

Types of Adverbs and Usage

Adverb of Manner

An adverb of manner tells us how an action is performed. It answers the question 'How?'. These adverbs usually end in '-ly', but not always. They are often placed after the verb or object. They help describe actions more clearly. They are very common in descriptive writing. Sometimes, they can be placed before the verb for emphasis.

Examples: Examples: quickly, carefully, softly

Adverb of Place

An adverb of place tells us where an action happens. It answers the question 'Where?'. These adverbs usually come after the main verb. They help give location or direction. They are important for clarity in narration. Some adverbs of place also show movement. They make sentences more precise.

Examples: Examples: here, there, outside

Adverb of Time

An adverb of time tells us when an action happens. It answers the question 'When?'. These adverbs can appear at the beginning or end of a sentence. They help show sequence or timing of events. They are frequently used in storytelling. They add time reference to actions. They help avoid confusion in communication.

Examples: Examples: now, yesterday, soon

Adverb of Frequency

An adverb of frequency tells us how often an action occurs. It answers the question 'How often?'. These adverbs are usually placed before the main verb. They are placed after the verb 'to be'. They help describe habits or repeated actions. They are commonly used in daily speech. They add clarity to routine activities.

Examples: Examples: always, often, never

Adverb of Degree

An adverb of degree tells us the intensity or extent of an action or quality. It answers the question 'How much?' or 'To what extent?'. These adverbs are usually placed before adjectives or adverbs. They help express emphasis or comparison. They make expressions stronger or weaker. They are widely used in both speech and writing. They help convey exact meaning.

Examples: Examples: very, too, quite

Exercises

Exercise 1: Identify the adverb

- 1. She spoke softly.
- 2. He arrived yesterday.
- 3. The children played outside.
- 4. She always wakes up early.
- 5. The room was very clean.

Exercise 2: Fill in the blanks with suitable adverbs

- 1. He finished the work _____.
- 2. She will come _____.
- 3. The baby cried _____.
- 4. We _____ go for a walk.
- 5. The tea is _____ hot.

Exercise 3: Choose the correct adverb

- 1. She sings (sweet / sweetly).
- 2. He runs (fast / fastly).
- 3. They reached (early / earlyly).
- 4. The train arrived (late / lately).
- 5. She was (too / very) tired.

Exercise 4: Match the following

1. quickly	a. Adverb of time
2. here	b. Adverb of manner
3. often	c. Adverb of frequency
4. yesterday	d. Adverb of place

Exercise 5: Identify the type of adverb

- 1. She always speaks politely.
- 2. He waited outside.
- 3. We will meet tomorrow.

-
- 4. The movie was very interesting.
 - 5. She drives carefully.

Answer Sheet

- Exercise 1: softly, yesterday, outside, always, very
- Exercise 2: quickly, soon/tomorrow, loudly/softly, often/usually, very
- Exercise 3: sweetly, fast, early, late, too
- Exercise 4: 1-b, 2-d, 3-c, 4-a
- Exercise 5: Frequency, Place, Time, Degree, Manner